

Bety's paid labor hours, spent cleaning houses, are represented by heavy, earth-colored forms cast from various types of pot scrubbers. Her unpaid work hours, many of which are spent volunteering within her church community, are represented by lighter disks with holes reminiscent of tracery.