

Inspired by my kid's sticker collection, the sticker scraps that he gave me, and playing on the word "collection"; I turned this sketchbook into a fashion moodboard as my version of a Sticker Collection. This is part of a working series called Processing Parenthood. The book is housed at the Art Council of Princeton.