

Kim Hopson is an artist based in Brooklyn, NY. In her work she explores themes of physical limitation, otherness, and ableism. Experiencing life with a disability has given her a unique viewpoint that is reflected in her paintings, drawings and collages. Motherhood has made that otherness a more central part of her work.