

The Secret Life of Color is part of a recent series titled “Flower Power”, started during the COVID19 pandemic. A reference to the flower power movement of the 1960s, flowers become emblems of feminine resistance. Mary employs an unapologetic neon-hued color palette as a rebuke, glowing vibrant as the world turns dark.